PREFACE

This 20th edition of the annual series publication, Malaysian Mineral Trade Statistics (MINTRADE) 2015 provides an overview of the Malaysia's mineral trade statistics during the year 2015. The efforts to enhance this annual series of publication of trade statistics data were continued for the purpose of providing meaningful information to the public.

In 2015, the recovery of the global economy has remained modest, amid slowing world trade and moderating growth in the emerging economies and the ongoing concerns on the durability of the economic recovery in the advanced economies. The Malaysian economy is significantly affected and continued to be in a period of adjustment alongside the impact of the depreciation in the ringgit exchange rate, the implementation of Goods and Services Tax (GST) and adjustments in administrative prices. Nevertheless, despite the challenges, the Malaysian economy has been able to remain and sustain a respectable growth in the year of 2015 although it has been a decline from the previous year. The Malaysian economy grew by 5.0% in 2015 (2014: 6.0%), supported by the continued expansion of domestic demand (2015: 5.1%, 2014: 5.9%) which is primarily driven by the private sector. Modest improvements in external demand in the second half of the year also provided additional impetus to the Malaysian economic growth (Annual Report 2015, Bank Negara Malaysia).

As for minerals and mineral-based sector, Malaysian imports increased by 1.9% from RM69.23 billion in 2014 to RM70.59 billion in 2015. The exports as well increased by a percentage of 8.2% from RM33.52 billion in 2014 to RM36.51 billion in 2015.

MINTRADE is a continuous effort undertaken by the officers and staffs of the Mineral Economics Section of the Department, and I would like to express my warm appreciation to those involved. My gratitude also goes to the Department of Statistics Malaysia for their kind cooperation in providing the raw data that have supported the publication of this report.
